BATH HOUSE
THE BYZANTINE HAMMAM

PHILOSOPHY

Welcome to Bath House Acro, a sanctuary of Cretan well-being, where ancient bathing rituals and nature's rhythm restore balance. Designed with pure natural materials - stone, wood, and earth - our space reflects the raw beauty of Crete's landscapes.

Our treatments embrace purification, renewal, and serenity. The elements that work in harmony to detoxify, restore, and awaken the senses.

Here, time slows. Let the warmth of water and the touch of stone reconnect you with wellness in its purest form.

The Sacred Bath: A Ritual of Renewal

In ancient Crete, where nature and the divine were inseparable, there existed stone-carved bathhouses, sacred spaces dedicated to the cleansing of both body and spirit. The Minoans believed that water was a gift from the gods, a living force that purified, healed, and connected mortals to the celestial realm.

Within these sanctuaries, steam infused with wild herbs filled the air, while warm water embraced the body, dissolving tension and restoring balance. Olive oil, the "liquid gold" of the land, was gently massaged into the skin, and the fragrant essence of dittany and lavender awakened the senses. This was more than a bath; it was a ritual of renewal, a moment where time stood still, and the energy of the island worked its quiet magic.

Today, this ancient wisdom lives on. Our Bathhouse offers a modern take on timeless rituals, where our skilled therapists use ancient techniques in all our treatments to envelop you in warmth and the soothing properties of carefully selected elements, fostering deep relaxation and rejuvenation. Let yourself surrender to the ritual and emerge renewed.

Our Offerings

In collaboration with Omorovicza, Maroc Maroc, and Dr. Barbara Sturm, we have crafted a selection of exquisite rituals that honor time-honored traditions while embracing the finest in modern skincare innovation.

From the mineral-rich formulations of Omorovicza, drawn from the healing thermal waters of Hungary, to the Moroccan heritage of Maroc Maroc, infused with the sacred oils and aromatic elixirs of the Maghreb, and the cutting-edge cellular regeneration of Dr. Barbara Sturm, our treatments weave together science and nature in perfect harmony.

Every touch, every scent, every carefully chosen element works in unison to replenish vitality and elevate your well-being to its most radiant state.
